HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Report Launch: The Transitioning Security Order in the Indo-Pacific

The LeidenAsiaCentre, the New Delhi-based Institute of Peace and Conflict Studies \(IPCS\), and the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung (FES) have embarked on a collaborative project titled:

The Transitioning Security Order in the Indo-Pacific: Furthering India-EU & Triangular Collaboration

Despite the burgeoning discourse on the Indo Pacific, analysis is relatively sparse on how the construct influences transitions in regional security ordering (and vice versa). Nevertheless, the construct, diverse stakeholder calculi, and shapers? The authors share the policy report's findings at this launch event.

LeidenAsiaCentre's Publications in 2022

In 2022, the LeidenAsiaCentre published one book and five research reports. In case you have missed any of our publications, you can find it down below. To access the publication, click on the cover.

Some publications may be part of a larger LeidenAsiaCentre project. For an overview of our active and finished projects, please visit our projects page.

Public Health in Asia during the COVID-19 Pandemic

This volume by the LeidenAsiaCentre, the Konrad Adenauer Stiftung's \(KAS\) Regional Economic Programme Asia (SOPAS), and the IAFOR Research Centre at Osaka School of International Public Policy \(IRC\), provides an accessible framework for the understanding the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic in Asia, with a specific emphasis on global governance in health and labor.

The book was edited by Anoma P. van der Veere, Florian Schneider and Catherine Yuk-ping Lo

China's Standardisation System - trends, implications and case studies in emerging technologies

This report reviews China's evolving approach towards standardisation. It includes two case studies: standardisation in 6G and in Artificial Intelligence, to identify the newest developments of China's approaches towards standard-setting digital technologies. Finally, the report discusses the implications of China's evolving approaches towards standard-setting for European policymakers.

The report was written by John Lee, Eric Zhang and Rogier Creemers

Chinese Influence and Networks among Firms and Business Elites in the Netherlands

This report analyses the administrative practices and procedures in Chinese HER structures that are relevant for Dutch and European institutions. It discusses how international academic exchanges are relevant to China's strategic visions, and reviews the recent developments in the governance of 'scholar-to-scholar' international academic exchanges in China.

This report was written by Eric Zhang.

Chinese governance of International Academic Exchanges

The report analyses the connections of Chinese business elites with Dutch and other international business elites, and how these interactions affect the activities of Chinese companies in the Netherlands. Furthermore it examines how the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) organises itself abroad and the extent to which Chinese companies in the Netherlands are connected to, or influenced by, the CCP.

The report was written by Prof. Frank N. Pieke and Dr. Naná de Graaff

Europe's Indo Pacific Strategy: Moving Beyond US-China Rivalry and Refocusing on Asia

This report examines the implications of the dramatic events surrounding the Russian invasion of Ukraine for Europe's approach to the Indo-Pacific. The publication of this report also features a short video, in which Matt Ferchen explains the contents of the report.

The report was written by Matt Ferchen

How National Governments and Research Institutions Safeguard Knowledge Development in Science and Technology

This study aims to provide a systematic overview and analysis of nine national approaches to knowledge security. It is commissioned by the Dutch Advisory Council for Science, Technology and Innovation (AWTI) and serves as input for a broader AWTI study that provides policy advice to the Dutch government. The main research question this study addresses is: "How do national governments and research institutions safeguard knowledge development in science and technology in the light of the new or increased risks due to geopolitical and international developments?"

This study was written by Ingrid d'Hooghe and Jonas Lammertink
